

Produce your own private label tea range in 5 easy steps with Khoisan Gourmet!

Step 1

Decide if you wish to produce a conventional or organic tea range for your own brand.

Decide how many teas you wish to include in your range, with a pure straight single ingredient tea headlining your brand (i.e. Rooibos Tea). You can always extend the range once your basic product has become successful.

Step 2

Decide what type of packaging will work best for your clients and market demand, depending on your budget and product perception.

We already have packaging options on offersimply choose one for a most cost-efficient option or show us what kind of packaging you have in mind.

Step 3

Commit to our MOQs (minimum order quantity) per tea and approve our competitive quotes.

Step 4

Design your own retail box or self-standing ecobag and give us your ready-to-print artwork on disc.

Step 5

Wait for us to produce, print, pack and ship your own quality tea range anywhere in the world.
